Well-being Strategy for Leaders - Workbook

Leader course | Trainer: Daniel Okafor

About this workbook

Make well-being part of how the organisation runs: workload, policy and measurement.

Use it alongside the course player. Print it, or type your answers into a document.
Writing things down makes them easier to remember and to act on.

Reflection questions

1. Which part of work design causes the most strain in your area?

2. What data on workload could you look at this month?

3. What happens when a manager in your organisation raises a workload concern?

Write your answers below each question. There are no right answers.

Exercise: One-page well-being plan

1. Write two priorities linked to workload.

2. For each, name an owner, an action and a date.

3. Choose one measure for each priority.

4. Book the first quarterly review.

Seven-day action plan

Choose one outcome from this course to practise.

Day 1: decide the situation where you will use it.

Day 2 to 6: use it once a day and write one line about what happened.

Day 7: review. What worked, what will you change, who will you tell?

Outcomes to choose from:

- Link well-being to workload and design of work

- Build a well-being plan with real measures

- Make support part of everyday management

Confidence check

Rate your confidence with each outcome from 1 to 10 now, and again in two weeks.
